GREEN RIVER COLLEGE

ESCAPADES 2019

Welcome to the radical decade of the 1980's!

Beyond the fellowship and frivolity of the evening, it is important to reflect on the Rotary of Club of Kent's impact in the local and international communities and how your presence and donations tonight further this legacy.

Our Kent club was formed in the 1950's and has been a force for goodwill and selflessness ever since. Locally, we are supporting community programs and providing opportunities for our youth to reach their full potential. Abroad, we are participating in the international fight to eradicate Polio from the Earth.

Your generosity tonight will ensure that our mission of "Service Above Self" will continue to operate at its most effective levels. Thank you for your patronage.

Yours in Service.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Shelley M. Moffatt, AAMS

13215 SE 240th Street ,Ste A • Kent, WA 98042

With the resources of a Fortune 500 firm, our office is able to help the serious long-term investor organize and coordinate their affairs while building wealth, protecting wealth and preparing to transfer wealth to the next generation.

As an Edward Jones financial advisor, I believe it is important to invest my time in understanding what you're working toward, before you invest your money. Working closely with you, your CPA, attorney and other professionals, I use an established process and tailor my advice and guidance to create the most appropriate financial strategy for you and your family.

DESSERT DASH

There's no free dessert with your meal tonight. Our tradition is to buy our dessert with a donation to the Kent Rotary Club Foundation - our 501(c)(3). Donations are tax-deductible.

It's simple enough - just write your bid number, name and donation on the Dessert Dash sheet on your table. You will see the charge on your auction receipt.

We will pick up the Dessert Dash forms prior to playing Heads or Tails.

Each table picks a runner, whose job is to get to the Dessert tables as fast as possible, and place your small table flag in their choice of the many sweet rewards. That's why we call it a "dash!"

Desserts will be delivered to tables after every table has made their choice.

THANK YOU TO OUR DESSERT DASH SPONSOR

AUCTION TIPS

Signals the bidder should know:

Come here signal - the bid catcher (spotter) waves a hand with palm up and with an upward motion of the hands as if to say, "come here."

This indicates to the bidder that his/her last bid is no longer good and someone has bid more. It is used to encourage the bidder bid again.

Stay put signal - the bid catcher motions with both hands palms down, as to say, "stay there." This signal indicates to the bidder that his bid is still good. This signal is used when a bidder attempts to raise his/her own bid.

Wave off bid - the bidder lifts both arms and waves as if to stop a vehicle. This signal is used by a bidder to indicate to the auctioneer or the bid catcher that his last bid should be voided.

Q. I don't know when to raise my bid card.

A. It's a matter of timing. When the auctioneer has a $30 bid and asks for $35 and you are willing to pay the $35, raise your card at once. Delay will put you into a position of raising your card after the $35 bid has already been received and has gone on to $40. When your card comes up late, the auctioneer assumes you are bidding the $40 and takes your bid. If this happens and you did not want to bid, use the "wave off" signal.

Q. I'm afraid that I'll raise my own bid.

A. The auctioneer uses several bid catchers as the auctioneer's extra eyes. It is rare that a bidder can raise their own bid and have it be accepted. The bid catchers use sounds and signs to signal the auctioneer.

Q. How do I know if my bid is still the high bid?

A. The bid catcher keeps track and will let you know by signal. When you get a "come here" signal, it means someone has bid over your last bid and the bid catcher wants you to consider bidding again.

Q. Can I just shout my bid to the auctioneer?

A. You can, but the auctioneer won't hear you and will certainly not stop the auction to ask what you said. You must communicate with the auctioneer & spotters by signals.

Q. If I raise my card to bid but decide I don't want to go that high, what do I do?

A. If you have just bid and change your mind or your bid was taken by accident, you have one bid time to correct your actions. A "wave off" signal to the bid catcher or auctioneer will void your last bid.

If you change your mind after the auctioneer says "sold," you have made a purchase.

Q. What happens if I bid too much?

- A. The professional auction buyer always makes a decision on a limit prior to the auction. Mark your catalog with the figure you wish to stay under & stick to it.

SILENT AUCTION

1. Raises for less than the minimum raise will be disqualified by the Table Judge. All bids must be in even dollar amounts - no cents. Please note if the item has a minimum raise. This means that your raise must be at least this amount. For example, if an item is currently at $100 has a minimum raise of $10, you must raise it to at least $110 or it is not a valid bid.
 2. If someone is writing a bid at the time the table is being closed, that bid will be accepted, however...
 3. Disputes over bids being written at closing time will be determined by the Table Judge, including a further auction of the item between the involved parties. Challengers must hold up their hands to alert the Table Judge. Any Rotarian may serve as a Table Judge and do a "bid-off" to determine the winner of the item.
 4. Be careful!! Silent bids cannot be withdrawn. All corrections and changes must be legibly signed.
